STANDARDS FOR SAFEGUARDING AND PROTECTING ALL PARTICIPANTS IN SPORT

Those involved in running sports clubs should be aware of and recognise:

1. The different types of abuse
2. The signs of abuse and poor coaching practice
3. Boundaries of what is acceptable and unacceptable behaviour
4. and situations involving those in a position of trust
5. How to respond to concerns involving children and adults at risk
6. How and where to report concerns involving children and adults at risk

MYTH BUSTERS

Myth:

Safeguarding is only for children.

Fact: We have a duty to safeguard adults in sport and physical activity.

Myth:

We have no problems at our club and don't need to do safeguarding.

Fact: Good safeguarding practice protects all participants and staff in the club. A club where you can safely raise concerns and are listened to, is a club that people engage with longer term.

Myth:

Lower level concerns can be dealt with at a club level.

Fact: Clubs have a duty to act on all concerns, but you must also follow your Club and NGB Safeguarding Policy to make sure concerns are appropriately responded to, referred and recorded.

Sometimes many small things add up to a big thing.
Don't wait with raising a concern.

SAFEGUARDING ON THE GROUND- THE REALITY OF IT

Day to day safeguarding in a sport/physical activity club might feel and look quite different from thinking about policies and procedures.

Every day good practice shapes and supports a clubs welfare and safeguarding standards.

This can be involving children, young people and participants in the clubs culture. Using resources like play their way to plan sessions and regular communication about safeguarding.

LOWER LEVEL CONCERNS

A lower-level concern is any concern, doubt, or sense of unease, no matter how small, that someone may have acted in a way that is inconsistent with an organisations code of conduct.

This includes inappropriate behaviour outside of work, volunteering, or being an athlete.

These concerns are often not considered serious enough to refer to a statutory service such as the police or children's services.

LOWER LEVEL CONCERNS

It's important that an organisation challenges all concerns, including those thought of as lower-level, as it discourages any further rule breaking or escalating behaviour from taking place. When lower-level concerns are left unchallenged it creates the environment for more serious rule breaks and even abuse to occur.

We're passionate about enabling organisations to be safe, inclusive, agile, and resilient enough to secure their long-term future and unlock the advantages of sport and physical activity for everyone.

INFORMATION FOR PARENTS

CPSU PARENTS' HUB

We all want children and young people to enjoy taking part in sport – and parents play a key role in that.

This section of our website has been created to signpost parents to all the advice you need to keep your child safe in sport, from choosing safe clubs and activities, to supporting your child in a positive way.

If you're a coach or sports club, you can find further information on engaging with parents on the CPSU parents in sport topic page.

SAFEGUARDING ESSENTIALS

Safeguarding is a key responsibility for every organisation that delivers sport and physical activity.

There are safeguarding essentials that all organisations should have in place, such as having stand-alone safeguarding adults and child protection policies and procedures.

If you want to know more about safeguarding policies, procedures, recruiting responsibly for your organisation and how to go about getting a DBS check, then read on.

HEALTH AND SAFETY ESSENTIALS

All organisations employing five or more people must have a written Health and Safety Policy statement.

The policy should cover all aspects of the organisation and be relevant to all employees.

A Health and Safety Policy demonstrates how seriously an organisation takes its health and safety responsibilities.

A good policy will show how the organisation protects those who could be affected by its activities. The policy should be of an appropriate length and relevance to the activities and size of the organisation.

MENTAL HEALTH

EVERYBODY HAS MENTAL HEALTH

The World Health Organisation (WHO) defines mental health as a state of wellbeing in which people can realise their own abilities, cope with everyday life stresses, work productively, and contribute to their community.

1 in 4 of us, however, will experience mental health problems in any one year (Bebbington and McManus, 2020).

Supporting your people with their mental health is not only a legal requirement (Duty to Care Review and The Equality Act 2010), but also an essential aspect of maintaining a happy and healthy community in whatever setting, organisation, or physical activity you're involved with.

CHILD LINE

Support for children and young people

Childline is free to contact on 0800 1111.

Childline counsellors are here to take calls 24 hours a day, 7 days a week from children and young people under 19.

You can also speak to them online through the 1-2-1 chat and via email.

LGBTQ+ IN SPORT

We imagine a world where every LGBTQ+ person can thrive in sport. We want to unite everyone who cares about sport to create the world that we imagine, together.

Sport has the power to bring people together and to improve our mental and physical health. But too many LGBTQ+ people are still not able to thrive in sport.

INCLUSION SUPPORT

Activity Alliance

Activity Alliance has developed these 10 principles to support providers to deliver more appealing opportunities for disabled people.

activity alliance
disability inclusion sport

The 10 principles

During research published in our Talk to me report, disabled people told us:

Principle 1

My channels

Use communication channels that I already trust e.g. social media, local media.

Principle 2

My locality

Travelling to get to activities can be a significant barrier for disabled people. I would much prefer opportunities to be closer to home.

Principle 3

Me, not my impairment

Many people do not identify with being disabled and are put off by advertising that focuses on disability.

Principle 4

My values

Everyone has values. Understanding what my values are and linking an activity to these can make taking part more appealing.

Principle 5

My life story

As people grow older our values change. Keep me interested over time through new ideas.

Principle 6

Reassure me

Some disabled people fear standing out and need to be reassured that any activity we attend will be welcoming and suitable for our needs.

Principle 7

Include me

Some disabled people need to know we are good enough to take part. Providers should make sure that people with varying ability levels feel included in sessions.

Principle 8

Listen to me

Disabled people can be limited by our impairment and should be able to discuss our needs in a safe and private environment before starting an activity.

Principle 9

Welcome me

An unpleasant first experience can prevent anyone from taking part again. Ensure my first experience is enjoyable so I'm likely to return.

Principle 10

Show me

Engage disabled people who are already involved in your activity to promote it to others.
